WORLD SKAN, LLC

Harry Skandera, the Director of World Skan, has a unique blend of experience in education, business, and international relations. He has spent the past 10 years in classrooms and administrative roles encouraging young people to pursue their dreams and discover their purpose through education.

In addition to teaching, Mr. Skandera has an extensive background in international business. In working with people from more than forty different nations and extensive travel in five of the seven continents, Mr. Skandera has developed a deep appreciation and respect for the unique details of individuals and culture. As a father of four grown children and 11 grandchildren, Mr. Skandera appreciates what it takes to build from one generation to another.

He is a great believer in the power and ongoing purposes that are fulfilled when the generations work together. Mr. Skandera has extensive experience in coaching individuals and families in preparing for and discovering the unique possibilities and opportunities of today and their future.

WORLD SKAN Mission

World Skan, LLC connects international high school students to faith-based high schools across America.

World Skan serves high schools that have an existing international program and can also guide schools through the process of launching an international program.

Enabling schools to expand their reach and message, diversify their student body and broaden their tuition base, World Skan aligns unique international student's needs with unique educational goals.

Mr. Skandera selects international students and matches them with World Skan education partners on the basis of 3 principles:

- 1. Preparation – Students wishing to study in the U.S. must have a rudimentary use of the English language.
- 2. Commitment – Families must be willing to invest the necessary resources to provide the rich educational experiences offered via World Skan partner schools.
- 3. Integrity – Students must be committed to applying themselves and honoring the unique educational community and culture where they are enrolled.

WORLD SKAN Vision

International students will broaden the exposure and stretch the faith of any school in which they are welcomed. They represent a view of God's work in other parts of the world and present an opportunity to enrich the educational culture of your school.

International families have demonstrated they are serious about investing in the education of their young people. They are excited about the possibility of learning from American institutions, specifically those connected with the values that provide the foundation for our country's apparent blessing and productivity.
